THUR MAY AND A THE NOWER GANADA.

The Montreal papers have been received undea date of the 4th inst. Every thing was quiet in Lower Canada, and not the least apprehensing was felt of a renewal of the contest.

· UPPER CANADA.

By the papers from Buffalo of Tuesday, it apgrate, as was anticipated, that the rumored de-And of the British in an attack upon Navy Island was nufounded. No attack had as yet Dumont, Woodbary and Smart were appointed taken place, and it was undoubtedly delayed for the arrival of the reinforcements from Quebec and Montreal.

The Buffelo Commercial Advertiser says

It is a vain task to attempt correcting the stories put is floot in regard to events on this frontier; but it is well enough to inform those at a distance that not one tenth of what they hear, deserves belief. The cantern papers are fijled with the most exagerated accounts of the doings at Naty Island, and of the force assembled there. So far as we can learn, not a man on the tolood, er on the Canadian shore, has been killed up to this time. A few shots are occasionally sent across, and this is the amount office dreauful camnoneding, about which so much has been said. The gentleman of undoubted veracity," who informed the editor of the Rochester Democrate that he distinctly howe; at Carthagh, the cannonading from Navy taland; must have rejoiced in the possession of a-1- nerves of Theominon sensibility.

The call of Gen. Burt upon the Militia has been promptly responded to. Throughout yesterday they came in from every part of the county. They muster in all from 1,500 to 2,600 companies of city guards, is maply sufficient to defend our territory from any farther aggression. We do not think they will be called upon to repel any attempt of the kind, but in answering so promptly to the call that was made upon them, they have shown a spirit worthy of all

P. S. . We learn this afternon, that the greater part of this force have been dismissed by the commanding officer, and have rejurned home. The Ame paper under date of Jan. 3d, has the following:

TUESDAY, Jun. 9, 1838. In the SENATE. - Mr. Dumont said it would be recollected that he had reveral days ago of-It is gold that there is not a single individual committee to contract with some suitable perfered an order for the appointment of a joint printer must of course be employed, and this was the mode in which it had always been done. The committee would probably report their doings, and if the Senate was not satisfied with them, they could reject their report. He moved that the order be taken up. His motion preon the part of the Senate. On motion of Mr. Barnard the remonstrance from Bingham against the votes of that town tor Governor was taken up. Mr. Higgins moved that it be referred to the committee which has that subject under consid-Mr Boutelle inquired if was not understood that the committee had made their report in the other branch, and had been discharged. If so, men drew up the facts respecting the remonthere was a manifest impropriety in referring business to a committee which was in fact no longer in existence.

Mr Greene said a majority of the committee had a steed when a report, which had been made ip the Rouse, he believed, but he did not un? derstand that the committee had been discharged, or had asked to be discharged ine whole subject might be referred back to the committee when acted upon by the the house..... Mr. Ham concurred with Mr. Greene, as we understood, for we did not hear him distinctly until I have such directions. being interrupted at the moment.

Mr. Randall thought the acceptance of the report was in point of fact, and by usage, a virtual discharge of the committee. The motion might be varied so as to refer the remonstrance This force; in addition to the several to the committee to whom had been referred the votes for Governor.

Mr. Boutelle thought the view of the gentleman from thecoln was correct; that when a committee had reported on a whole subject committed to them they were technically discharged by established parliamentary usage; but if they were not discharged; if still in existence, might be questioned whether it would be proper to embarass them with more business after they had made their report. It would certainly be rather an awkward husiness to get them together at this stage of the session to take up new remonstrances and make a supplemental report, or to modify the one already made and received. Mr Denger was indifferent what disposition was made of the remonstrance: the view of his notwith landing the acceptance of the report of the commuttee to correct and examine the votes for Senators. Will the gentleman from Cumberland agree to take up the remonstrance from fraud was alleged: if it was done, there would be no end to the business the committee would in making up their report: had done their duty Lukewarm declarations will not serve our turn, ties upon them. He moved to my the remainstrance on the table.

Mr. Greene remarked the gentleman from Kennebee states that the remonstrance was received here before the committee reported, though it had not been acted upon. It was the property of one House as much as the other. It may be of importance to the House, where it has not get been received. It was therefore proper that it should be sent to the House, to be disposed of as that body may seem fit. As to the allusion of the gentleman from Kennebec, in relation to the vote of Gray, Mr. G. said he was willing to go into an investigation of all the facts in the case, or any other case, until all gentlemen were satisfied. Mr. Ham thought that as the remonstrance was jobit property, it should in justice be sent to the House: if that body chose to go into an investigation, let it be done, In reply to the allusion to the votes of Gray, he would say that whenever instructed to do so, he was ready to go behind the record, and examine the case of the votes of Gray, or any other town, whose votes should be remonstrated against. Mr Boutelle said, that inasmuch as the gentleman from York, (Mr. Ham,) who was Chairman of the committee on the senatorial votes, had undertaken to state, that that committee had decided they would receive evidence to impeach or contradict the return of votes from Gray, he felt constrained to say, that the gentlemen had not stated the resultitual the committee had comedo; as he, Mr B had understood it. Mr B. said the Gray remonstrance alleged, that the votes of that town had not been declared by the selectmen and town clerk, in open town meeting: and that the vote was not recorded in open town meeting, by the lown clerk: that a motion was made by a member of that committee, that evidence to contradict or impeach the return, unless fraud was alleged, or suggested and it was admitted no fraud was alleged in this cuso should not be received by the committee. This motion was corried in the affirmative, by 5 to 4. That one of the committee had requested the chairman, Mr Ham, to insert the substance of the Gray remonstrance in the report, and the action of the committee thereon, which he declined to do. Mr. B. said he should not for the computation of the Rritish troops at at this time have adverted to the doings of that committee; if the gentleman, Mr. Ham, had not

He would inform the gentleman that he was ready and willing at all times and on all occasiens to investigate behind returns when he was properly authorized so to do.

In relation to the report, he would say that it on read before the committee as drawn up, and they voted unanimously to report it as it was read by the Chairman. Afterward three gentlestrance from Gray came to him (Mr Ham) and requested him to insert it in the body of the report. Mr. Dumont was not aware that the remonstrance had been received before the committee reported. He had no objection to sending it to the House; he could not exactly understand the argument of the gentleman from York, who was willing to go behind the record to examine the remonstrance against the votes of any, except-"that particular case" of the votes of Gray. Mr. D. withdrew his motion to key the remonstrance on the table.

The motion to refer the remonstrance being then modified, on the suggestion of Mr Randall to refer it to the committee to whom were referred the votes for Governor, was adopted without a division; and the Senate adjourned.

> A CHAPTER ABOUT Pigs I am a lower of pigs. Start not, gentle reader ! I do not mean by this decises fron that I am peculiarly a lover dead swine ffesh (that is another thing entirely), but what I mean is that I must profess an attachment to the actual, living, grunting and feeding animal to her swines flesh with out qualification. The reader may smile, if he pleases, at this. But whole to my first asseve. ration in the bare words as they stand at the head of this article 'I am a lover of pigs. I sion. It is my opinion, reader, flowever thine moreover, their education has been neglected,

It is said that pigs are dirty, grovelling animals; moreover, proverbially grandy and mone to the earth, earthy. The first part of the charge is admit, for it is in light with notice of the benet; but I doubt seriously whether pigs have always been as greedy and slothful and unclean in their tastes as they are now. They have been shut up in styes by civilized man, and thus made brutes of. A pig suffered to go wild in the woods, and follow his own nature, is an aninal of a higher order than your sty-gendered, sty nurtured swine that has nothing to do but become becon nothing to look forward to but his meals and sleep, and at last, though blessed by providence with few topes and lears, to an untimely and sudden death.

I assert that pigs are true to the natures God use given them. This may be thought by hasty has given them. readers to be an obvious truth enough. But apprehend that it is not sufficiently, recognized even by naturalists. Other beasts have their vaguries, their deviations from the strict path which nature intended they should take. Othbrutes yield to circumstances, and enbuil to the all-domineering tyranny of man- But with the genuine pig there are no vagaries no deviations. He yields to no circumstances till he is absolutely compelled by physical force: No moral sussion can change the stoicism of his will. There is a singleness of aim, a oneness of purpose, about a pig which is truly never to be sufficiently admired.

Observe the swinish drove filling the dusty road as they move onward to the butcher's each individual pig or pigling with his head eyes and ears down, and his tail curled and wagging briskly, see how each one trots on, utterly regardless of his neighbor his whole soul concentrated into a burning energy of pur pose to provide in all possible wayaand quanti titles for himself, and himself alone there is no interfering -no parring of interests, $303,610 69 except oggasionally when some pack of nondescript esculent substance happens to be eyed by by two at the same time, and then there is no within by Fielding to either, but each contends in grunting obstinacy to the last. There is a large and grasping energy in a pig he is the large embodingent of physical firmness and consistency. A pig is never inconsistent. Not you shall find inconsistency any where else. A mong mankind you shall never cease to see traresofit. But the life of a pig is a perfect whole-There are more enemiriented no furtish wildnesses no breaking through general rules small descendings into trifling particulars for $120,000 the sake of obtaining a few temperary advanta-75,000 ges A pig never qualifies a general proposition when once established in his brain, 195,000 never stops to consider. To will is to do. Reason, instinct, affection, performance, in him are ail one.

I have often thought how many a deep lessor man might learn from his swinish fellow-mortal. Were we only as true to our natures as pigs are to theirs; how exalted should we be! How iesistless would be she will, when reason and conscience had made their decisions! Did we but follow these higher sentiments as they follow their natural instincts, how should we rice $413,951 88 to fellowship with angels. But pass into some state but this is mere speculation let us confine ourselves to facts.

Pige are totally unlike all other animals, and are therefore distinguished. There is much in Them that resembles the man animal. In truth, man has almost all the faults of the pig, without his virtues. But pigs ere still sine gencris They are a perpetual lesson to that person whose apprehension is ever open to the reception of truth, no matter from how humble a source soever it proceeds. Man is a compound animal. He is half brute and half angel. The pig on the centrary, is a single, uncompound animal. He is all brute. And the pir is not any great in life, he is sublime and follows in unbroken directness bis own implanted nature, (the next step to the ridiculous) in death. " He struggles to the last against the fell weapon that spills his blood. His whole soul hursts forth in the dying squeat. His whole energy ebbe in the flow of his last lie-blood. COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

MANY of the good people of this City have TA-XES MUST BE PAID had "line upon line, and precept upon precept," by way of polite and preceing invitations, to pay their taxes. The strong language of the Assessor's Warrants for the year 1837, as committed to me, will not allow of further par ley or delay. Every resident of the city, who has not yet paid his tax, is earnestly called upon to neglect no longer this necessary and important duty, as in such matters "delays are dangerous' Non Residents should look out in order that the Collector does not make too great a profit in advertising and selling their lands for taxes of 1837. The only way to prevent this is, by calling immediately and paving the same.

If The Collector will be at the City Hall from 9 to 10 A. M. and from 2 to 3 n clock, P. M. JOHN LANGEY, Collector of city of Danger, 1837.

NEW AND VALUAULE, SCHOOL

BOOK! Hh attention of School Committees Teachers and Parents is invited to the eximination of the "JUVENILLE READERS" a selection of easy Read ing Lessons, by a Tember, a new equipm of which revised and corrected, we have just published. It is believed that the book is one which has been yery much wanted mour common schools, and in deed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers. The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities, and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, are chiefly lected from popular works designed for youth and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted. The book comes at a very lowprice and has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation and having been stereotyped is free from the dan ger of having any alterations made to it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books

Describedly the most popular remedifiever known in An inex! EGLTABLEPULMONARY BAL SAM The following recommendation is from

Dr Jacoh Myers Extract of a letter from Dr Jacob Myers
"The Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam has been said in this country for two years, and the medicine has gained an uncommon celebrity, for it scarcely is one instance faded of liaving the desired effect I am by no means in favor of the many nostrums most of which are impositions upon a credulous public but that which I know by experience to be ef fectual. I cannot help but give my approbation thereto. A confinerful preparation has been offered here by a travelling agent of Comstock, N.
